

Declaration of impartiality for external experts of the Norwegian Scientific Committee for Food and Environment

First name: Click here to add text.
Surname: Click here to add text.
Workplace: Click here to add text.
Project number: Click here to add text.

In the fields below, indicate whether there are any relationships that could affect your impartiality in your work at VKM. Due to the strict transparency requirements imposed on VKM, even circumstances that may appear to be irrelevant to your impartiality should be disclosed.

For example, an affiliation that you may have or have had to persons, institutions, companies, etc. as described below, may seem trivial to you, but can take on completely different dimensions if the outside world suspects that the affiliation has been deliberately concealed.

If you do not have anything to report under the individual items listed, write "nothing to report".

- 1. Direct affiliations or interests that may be of relevance to the work of VKM (financial benefits due to employment, self-employment, membership of boards, obligations, investments, remuneration, etc.):

Click here to add text.

2. Indirect affiliations or interests that may be of relevance to the work of VKM (indirect financial benefits, such as scholarships, project funding, or other forms of benefits):

Click here to add text.

3. Affiliations or interests in connection with professional work of your own or your immediate relatives, which may be of relevance to the work of VKM (remember that distant relationships combined with benefits, losses or disadvantages for the person concerned, may result in a lack of impartiality or in a conflict of interest):

Click here to add text.

4. Membership or other affiliation with organisations or bodies that may be of relevance for the work of VKM:

Click here to add text.

5. Other circumstances that may undermine trust in your impartiality (e.g., friendships / enmity, other relationships):

Click here to add text.

6. Signature

By sending this completed form by e-mail to your project manager in the secretariat, or to vkm@vkm.no, you confirm that the information above is complete and accurate, and that it may be published on VKM's website. You confirm that you have received, are familiar with, and will comply with VKM's rules on impartiality, including the point on confidentiality, and VKM's values.

Place: Click here to add text.

Date: Click here to select a date.